Treasurer's report given by Janet.

We brought in $134 at the Area Conference selling jelly and air fresheners. We currently have $1682.17 with approximately $810 to spend for dues and supplies cost to Clara for the yearbook.

Old Business:

Pat Recapped the Area Workshop with an emphasis on membership. 30 year certificates were awarded to Sue Combs, Janet Robb, Pat Souriall and Anne Sundquist. She suggested inviting people to the Christmas meeting. The idea of meeting in classrooms were considered.

State Convention is June 22 – 24 at the downtown Hyatt. We have been given the duty of putting out evaluation forms in the morning and picking them up in the evening. We will reserve a room for those people that covers the duties on a rotational basis.

Reminders:

Newsletter - Email Anne anything to be included in the newsletter.

Yearbook – The yearbook is due on November 1st. Everything is going good.

Email Addresses – At the Area Workshop it was advised that every member should use personal email addresses for DKG communications not your school email.

We broke for dinner and reconvened at 6:45.

We had Gary Oakley who previously worked for the Department of Defense and Diane Oakley who were invited by Ann Allen. Gary is now a Beekeeper and did a presentation about honey bees and their effect on the environment. He went over why bees are important: fruits and vegetables need pollinated which is mostly done by honey bees. There is a concern about their future. We have lost 20-30% of the bee population. If we lost all the honey bees worldwide, all out food supply would be gone in 5 days. If you see a swarm of bees, don't panic they are not permanent. They are just looking for a new home. The presentation was quite interesting and educational.

Ann Allen presented Mr. & Mrs. Oakley we a small gift and thank you card.
